

the national archives

palaeography

further practice

Document 39: Admiralty: Mutiny at the Nore, 1797

(Catalogue reference: ADM 1/727/C370a)

Contents

About this document	1
Image	2
Transcript	6

About this document

This document is a ballad recording the mutiny at the Nore, dating from 1797. (Catalogue reference: ADM 1/727/C370a)

The ballad was found on the ship HMS Repulse after the end of the mutiny of the Fleet at the Nore, which began in spring 1797 because of low pay and poor conditions in the Navy. The Nore, a sandbank in the Thames estuary near the entrance to the River Medway, was an important naval anchorage and assembly point. After the ships involved in the mutiny submitted, Admiral Lord Keith removed any documents that had not been destroyed by the mutineers from the ships and sent them to the Admiralty.

Please note:

- The document is written in a mixed cursive hand.
- The title Song is in an italic hand.
- 'Tar', in line 23, was slang for sailor, a word thought to derive from the word 'tarpaulin'.
- 'impessing' in line 48 for 'impressing'. Men were often 'press-ganged' into the Navy.

2

My dear Sir

Willst Parsones number No. 10. can be the boat the vice of Steamers
The Vice the Sunders Southwicks boat to be through Snow Engine Steamers drag'd by the former charge of from every dear connections might ^{perhaps} better be the the same
The more this I do respect
I wish them to be
The provisions must be the same in. Repetition, for our love see throes all your heart.

The but near Delusion

2

It hardly be ours a day they are not all protected
Why is the hand of our Nation
Growth of our own
As this your proof of British rule
As this regarding France
As chance to doat your laws
Then some those that to have Blush them all

When first returned from Noxovious wher
He binthos saying Decaid
To Land the Sun burnt steerman fter
Impelled by strong imitations
This much said state his children Decad around him Kings Delighted -
But saw the mope fering their Appen and every day is Noxovious
At the
Thus from each ^{soth} m. steerman
Robert the steerman sang with
This wife and children left the land

The Army of the Mother Country.
Night of those times when you are strong their ships from want of powder.
My troops and all their arms at length are in a work house in the
S. White Rd
And the the Dominion of a Court.
Who have at the same time
Whom they will be in a work house and in great improvement
A time will come when things like you mean battles of Senators
The more will make them kind (know)
The work of Devotion - Abus & a

Transcript

1. Song
2. 1
3. Whilst Landmen wander tho' control'd
4. And boast the rites of Freeman
5. In View the Tenders loathsome hole
6. Where droops Your Injured Seamen
7. drag'd by Oppressions Savage Graspes
8. From every dear Connection
9. Midst putrid Air oh see them Gasp
10. Oh mark their Deep dejection
11. Blush then Oh Blush
12. Ye Pension hast who wallow
13. in Profusion, for our foul
14. Cell proves all you boast
15. to be but mean Delusion
16. 2[n]d
17. If Liberty be ours O say why are not all protected
18. Why is the hand of Ruffian sway
19. 'Gainst Seamen thus Directed
20. Is this Your proof of British rites
21. Is this rewarding Bravery
22. Oh shame to boast Your Tars Exploits
23. then Doom those Tars to Slavery
24. Blush then etc
25. 3[r]d
26. When just returnd from Noxcious skies
27. Ill Winters raging Ocean
28. To Land the Sun burnt seaman flies
29. Impell'd by strong immotion
30. His much lov'd Kate his Children Dear
31. around him Cling Delighted
32. But low the impressing Fiends appear
33. and every day is Blighted
34. 4th
35. Thus from each soft indearment torn
36. Behold the Seaman Languish
37. His Wife and Children left Forlorn
38. The prey of Bitter Anguish
39. Reeft of those Arms whose Vigorous strength
40. Their shield from want defended
41. they Droop and all their woes at length
42. are in a work house Ended
43. Blush etc
44. 5
45. Hark[?] then Ye Minions of a Court
46. Who prate at Freedoms Blessing
47. Whom Every hell born war support palaeography further practice

48. and Vindicate impressing
49. A time will come, when things like you
50. near Baubles of Creation
51. No More will make man kind persue
52. the Work of Devastation
53. Blush then etc