INTRODUCTION

These court rolls have been arranged in chronological order and where possible, original rolls have been reconstructed. The stitching of a number of rolls has disintegrated, although some rolls are in their original state. These rolls were previously examined, and recorded inaccurately, probably in the nineteenth century, and in some cases, the original order has been lost.

The rolls are identified by roll and membrane numbers, given in the third and fourth columns respectively of the following list. Many of the membranes have later parchment tags sewn to them, giving the dates of the rolls and the manors to which they relate. These no longer reflect the present arrangement of the rolls. Many of the rolls have a number (608), followed by a lower case letter. This represents an earlier archival arrangement of all the court rolls and all the terriers, rentals and surveys relating to the Colet Estate.

Personal names have been standardized as far as possible and titles such as gentleman, Mercer, have not been included. However, where people are described as surveyor, Deputy, Upper Warden or House Warden, this has been included.

INTRODUCTION

The proceedings of the later manor courts are recorded in five books. <sup>MDR</sup>
The contents of each book have been listed separately and the courts arranged chronologically, which is not always the case in the books themselves. Where necessary, the books have been re-paginated. The numbers in the third and fourth columns of the following list record the first and last page of each entry.

The books are all in good condition, the writing being in a clear hand, with only occasional damp staining, which does not seriously affect the legibility of the text. By this period all the entries are made in English.
